WHEN SIGHTED BY FISHING SCHOONERS SHE HAD BROKEN IN TWO-THE CREW OF THIRTY MEN PROBABLY LOST.

Gloucester, Mass., Feb. 28.—Captain William borkum, of the fishing schooner Mondego, which arrived at this port to-day, brought news that the Grerdue Hamburg-American Line steamer Moravia, Captain Fergusen, which sailed from Hamburg for Boston January 18, was wrecked on the northeast bar of Sable Island about Febmary 12. On February 14 Captain Corkum picked up a quantity of wreckage, including some whips and lead pencils, a barrel and a life preserver, bearing the words "Steamer Mora-

Four days later he spoke the schooner Arbitrator, Captain Spinney, also of this port, who, on learning what Captain Corkum had picked ap, informed him that the Moravia was ashore oken in two at the place referred to. Cap tain Spinney had been near the northeast bar a fay or two after the violent gales of February 12 and 13, had sighted the wreck, and had stood by watching for signs of life, but, falling to see any, had proceeded on his course to the fishing grounds.

Later Captain Corkum fell in with the schoor · Hattie A. Heckman, of Gloucester, which also had seen the wreck, and had salled around it ratching for life. The steamer apparently was DEVEN OF CREW RESCUED, SEVEN SUP-POSED LOST-REPORTS OF CAP-TAIN'S INHUMANITY.

Dartmouth, England, Feb. 28.—The British steamer Garton, Captain Willis, from Brunswick way of Norfolk on February 9 for Rotterdam and Bremen, arrived here to-day having on board he second officer and six of the erew of the British latea, Captain Lewis, of St. John, N. rom Turk's Island on January 30 with sait for esten, reported on February 18 to have been aban oned, dismasted and waterlogged in latitude 28 legrees north and longitude 50 degrees west. The Galatea, it appears from the report of her scond officer, was abandoned on February 15, at time she was in a sinking condition. tous to that the bark had experienced terrible reather and began to loak rapidly. In spite of fact that her pumps were kept going, morning of February 15 Captain Lewis, the hief officer and steward, the stewardess and three amen left her in the only remaining boat, the having been stove in during the gale he end of four hours the boat was lost sight of n a furious gale, and the second officer considers impossible for her to have weathered the storm. At 9 o'clock the same evening the Garton hove a sight and took off the remainder of the crew of Galatea at a great risk. The high seas running revented the boat launched by the Garton from seprenching the sinking bark, so the men on sound the latter donned life-jackets and were tailed through the water, one of them having an erm broken while being rescued.

Galaten's second officer also says that after ler sails were blown away the commander ordered be remaining boat to be launched, and that he was the first to embark in her. The chief officer bllowed him, and the steward went next. The newardess and three members of the crew therepon entered the boat. The stewardess, in so long, fell into the sea and was nearly drowned. Captain Lewis, according to the second officer, with him all the provisions and left the renainder of the crew on board the sinking ship, athough, he adds, there was room for all in the soat, which hung about the bark until 1:30 p. m. and then rowed away

All the rescued members of the crew of the salatea confirm the story told by the second officer. They add that the captain, with a revolver his hand, threatened "to drill a hole" Irst man entering the boat without his orders.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS' MONUMENT. At a meeting of the Soldiers and Sailors' Monument Association, in the Mayor's Office, vesterday, committee composed of Recorder Coff, Park Com-missioner Clausen and Joseph A. Goulden reported b favor of reopening the competition for designs by the proposed monument. It was decided that the competition should be reopened, and the comnittee was empowered to prepare plans for receiving the new designs.

Recorder Goff called attention to a bill new pending in Albany, proposing to place the monoment on the Fifty-ninth-st, plaza. The bill, the Recorder safe, was not presented at the request of naval or nilitary men, as these were satisfied with the Mount Tom site. It was decided to oppose it in behalf of the city.

One woman was killed, another was overcome by smoke, and a fireman was slightly injured at a fire which wrecked the fourth and fifth floors of the five-story apartment-house No. 791 Columbusat 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning. woman killed was Mrs. Mary Prouty, forty-five years old, a widow, who boarded on the top floor of the house. She jumped from a window while the firemen were raising a ladder for ler

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Silas Sager, who lived on the fifth floor, with her husband, her son Frederick, seventeen years old; her mother-in-law, Mrs. Prouty, who came to board with them four days ago. Mrs. Sager was preparing breakfast for her son, who is a milkman, and was getting ready to go out on his route. She smelled smoke and, opening the door leading to the hall, heard the crackling of flames from the floor be-Hastily shutting the door she called to her son that the house was on fire. She then aroused the other members of the household, and seizing her insurance papers, fled to the roof, followed her husband and his mother. Her son made his way to the street by the stairway. Before leaving her apartments Mrs. Sager pounded on Mrs. Prouty's door, exclaiming: "Get out quickly. The

REFEREE'S VALUATION. Justice Josiah T. Marean of the Supreme Court as issued an order settling the case of William Rockefeller against the trustees of the village of North Tarrytown, in Westchester County. Reckefeller's property in North Tarrytown comprises fifty acres of land, known as the See Farm. which the village assessors valued at $18,000. Although it was offered for sale at less than one third that amount, no one was found willing to purchase it, and the report of Willis S. Hoysradi, purchase it, and the report of Willia S. Hoysradi, the referee in Mr. Rockefeller's suit, showed its value to be $2,700.

Later the North Tarrytown trustees offered to compromise by accepting the referee's figures as a basis of valuation. This being satisfactory to Mr. Rockefeller, his counsel, Howard H. Morse, applied to Justice Marcan for an order reducing the ansessment, and yesterday Mr. Morse paid to Evander Farrington. Treasurer of North Tarrytown, the tax on the new valuation.

The property in dispute was advertised in the tax sale of the village, which took place yesterday, but the order issued by Justice Marcan and the payment of the tax on the reduced valuation averted the sale. This practically ends the long tax litigation, so far as William Rockefeller is concerned.
